Case Now Being Heard In Bucks County Court By Judge Boyer

OCCURRED MAR. 25, '41

Angelo Di Venti, 12, Was Killed When Retaining Wall Collapsed

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 14—With the defendants, the Township of Bristol and Giacomo Asta, a Bristol grocer, being sued for damages because of the collapse of a wall which resulted in the death of a 12-year-old boy and broke the leg of a school girl, the case of Viola Terrani and Carmelo DiVenti, father of the dead youth, began Monday before Judge Calvin S. Boyer in Civil Court, here.

According to the statement of the complainant, a concrete wall, which is located along Adams Hollow creek and at the end of New Brook street, Bristol, collapsed March 25, 1941.

Angelo DiVenti, 12, who was playing about the wall, was pinned beneath it and died several hours later after being taken to a hospital. His father, Carmelo, is one of the plaintiffs.

Viola Terrani, 12, suffered a fracture of the leg and other injuries. She is one of the plaintiffs.

Among the witnesses, who were children seven years ago and also playing in that area when the wall fell, were Viola Terrani, Emma Marozzi, Allen D. White, Arthur Mannacchi, Frank DeBento, Joseph Ricci, John Caucei, Emelio Caucei, and others.

Allen D. White, 19, who was an eye witness, testified he "heard a thud" and when he looked around he saw the boy and girl pinned beneath the wall. He described the wall as six or seven feet high and about two feet thick.

Arthur Mannacchi, 18, who testified the wall was in poor condition, said: "Angelo and I were racing across the pipe from the hillside to the alley. Angelo was behind me. The wall covered him from his chest down. We tried to lift the wall, but couldn't move the piece of concrete which fell on Angelo."

Joseph Ricci, 50, who was visiting at the home of his daughter, testified the wall, which was originally built to prevent the stream from washing a way land, leaned toward the creek because at the bottom it was washed out.

"The children came running into the house and holed and I rushed out and we grabbed railroad ties and used them to pry the concrete up to get the little boy out."

Angelo Dilorio, photographer, testified he took some pictures a week or two after the accident and several a year or more later.

Sabirini Caucei testified about eight or nine men removed the boy first and then the girl.

The accident happened during the noon hour while the children were playing before returning to school for the afternoon session.

One witness testified that Bristol borough workmen after the accident came and broke up the rest of the wall which was standing.

The jury contains the following: Leon Pfeiffer, Perkasio, R. D. 1; Mamie Esser, Telford; Sallie Johnson, Ottsville, R. D.; Paul T. Dean, Andalusia; Gertrude P. Kirk, Andalusia; Orten Justice, Morrisville; Rudolph H. Segeletes, Pipersville; Isaac Pursell, Upper Black Eddy; Ervin Miller, Quakertown; Elsie Carroll, Lacey Park; Amelia M. Stever, Springtown, and Edward F. Glenn, Hilltown.

IN CHILD SLAYING

WITH the arrest in Baltimore of Harold Beach, Jr. (above), police declared they had found the man who, on New Year's eve, fatally stabbed 8-year-old Sheila Ann Tuley in Cleveland. The child's body was found on a porch a few doors from her home. Her father had sent little Sheila to buy a pack of cigarettes. When she did not return, the police were notified. Beach was said by officials to have made a confession. (International)

GLEANED BY SCRIBES

Two Bucks county men were members of two steam locomotive crews escaping injury at Trenton, N. J. Sunday evening, when the engines were derailed while pulling a 72-car freight train from the Coalport yards to the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The Bucks county men were James E. Hammond, 37, Newportville, a fireman, and George Pate, 26, Langhorne, a conductor. The mishap took place off Perry street, Trenton, to which place power wreckers were dispatched to lift the locomotive back on the track.

Coupled together, head on, the engines were on a curve in the vicinity of a switch when the wheels of the first engine's tender left the rails. The lead engine soon began to rock, and the second engine, John Hulton, 61, Camden, N. J., applied the emergency air brake. His quick action is credited with preventing the overturning of the lead engine backing ahead of him.

Both locomotives ripped up ballast, ties and rails for more than 100 yards as they left the rails. Hammond was the fireman of the lead engine.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wiley, of Morrisville, celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary Sunday when they

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Unless world conditions improve the United States must be prepared to spend $18,000,000,000 for defense in 1952, the Secretary's Air Policy Commission declared yesterday in its report "Survival in the Air Age."

Until that time, it added, millions must be poured into developing the air arm. "World peace and the security of the United States," the report said, "are now the same thing" but world peace "is not yet in sight." The report warned that this country could not consider itself relatively secure from atomic air attack beyond Jan. 1, 1953. The commission recommended changes in the Government's civil aviation activities.

Members of the Association of American Colleges, endorsed a strong defense and a firm foreign policy but overwhelmingly rejected compulsory universal military training.

The United States is losing "many times the cost of the European Recovery Program each year" through waste of natural resources, Secretary Krug told a Senate committee. He and Secretary Anderson agreed that the aid program would not adversely affect our economy. During the first two years, Mr. Anderson said, no beef, lamb, pork or corn would be shipped as relief.

Now It's Bristol High
'Warriors'; Others, Beware

The poor little bunny is in disrepute. His kind and gentle disposition does not make him a suitable symbol for a brute-like fighting football team or a smoothly clicking basketball machine. Neither does the name inspire a fighting spirit so necessary to win athletic contests on field or on the court.

So the name "Bunnies" has been scrapped by the Bristol high school athletic teams. They will henceforth be known as "Warriors."

This announcement was made today.

So now the Warriors go forth to conquer, and let all teams take warning.

EXPRESS GRATITUDE

German Family Expresses Belief in Gospel of Good Will

LETTER TO LOCALITE

That the peoples of the world can get along together provided they are willing to share what they have and to spread the gospel of good will is the thought expressed by a German family in a letter to Mrs. Edith Lindberg, an employee at Bristol high school.

The letter which came as a surprise to Mrs. Lindberg, expresses gratitude for a cake of soap which found its way into the home of the family in question.

In the letter, which was translated at the high school, it is told how the writers, a sister and brother, living in Mannheim, met two United States soldiers one evening when the former two were en route home from a motion picture show. The soldiers inquired of the sister and brother the way to a certain section of the suburbs. They were given the information, but advised not to try that night as at that hour no trolley cars were operating, and that the place in question was difficult to find. The Germans suggested that their mother could possibly arrange for overnight accommodation for the soldiers, and the offer was gratefully accepted.

Arriving at the German home the Americans spent a pleasant evening in enjoyment of games, songs and instrumental music, the younger boy in the family playing a harmonica. The young folks informed that

Miss Agnes Wilkie Speaks
At Meeting of The Guild

Members of the Women's Guild of Bristol Presbyterian Church met in the church, last evening, with Miss Agnes Wilkie, of Philadelphia, as guest speaker.

The meeting was called to order by the guild president, Mrs. Harry Neher, and a devotional period was led by Mrs. Sherman Bailey. Following the secretary's report by Mrs. Paul Forster, and treasurer's report by Mrs. E. Reed Lang, an account of Monday evening's executive meeting was given by Mrs. Neher.

Miss Wilkie, who is president of the Women's Association of the Woodland Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, explained the women's work in her church. She distributed booklets on the work for those present to peruse and discuss. The speaker stated that there were five things to be kept in mind in order to make such an organization a success—faith, prayer, accomplishment and personal responsibility. Questions of members were answered by Miss Wilkie.

The session adjourned for refreshments served by hostess circles Nos. 1 and 3.

2 MEN ARE SPEAKERS

LANGHORNE, Jan. 14—The Parent-Teacher Association held its monthly meeting last evening at the high school. It was father and son night.

Henry Pearson gave a talk on plexiglas, and J. Paul Probst presented an illustrated talk on model railroads.

At the meeting a children's hobby contest was held. About 25 children participated and such hobbies as stamp collections, bird nests, pencils, Indian artifacts, moth collections, model trains, match covers, etc., were presented. Earl Zimmerman won first prize in the over-all division and also first prize in his particular type of collection.

Refreshments were served after the meeting. About 80 persons attended.

RESCUE SQUAD TO MEET

CROYDON, Jan. 14—There will be a meeting of the Bucks County Rescue Squad in the headquarters, here tomorrow evening at eight o'clock.

The War Assets Administration today announced the sale of a government-owned aircraft plant here known as Fleetwings Plant No. 2, to the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., of St. Paul, Minn.

The Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. is a large corporation with approximately 18 branch offices located in the principal cities of the United States. There are also a number of branch factories, the principal factory and home office being at St. Paul, Minn. Other plants are located in Detroit, Mich., and Los Angeles, Cal. The Philadelphia office is located at 401 N. Broad street.

The firm employs both men and women, manufacturing "Scotch Tape," abrasives, sand-paper and adhesives. There is also a color and chemical division.

George L. Tracey, Philadelphia chief of WAA's real property office, said WAA accepted the firm's proposal to purchase the property for $861,000 on a negotiated basis.

The acquisition cost of the land and buildings to the government was $1,538,455, Tracey said.

The plant was completed in 1942 and was operated by the Fleetwings Division of Kaiser-Cargo Company during the war. The property occupies 146 acres containing three modern buildings with a total floor space of approximately 235,000 square feet.

W. L. McKnight, president of the Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co., announced that the Bristol property will be used as additional manufacturing and warehouse facilities for its "rapidly expanding eastern market."

When details of the sale are completed, McKnight said, the company will exercise an option to acquire an additional 250 acres of privately-owned land adjoining the plant "for future expansion."

"Immediate steps will be taken to get the plant into operation at the earliest possible moment," McKnight added.

"Barring unanticipated delays in the delivery of machinery and equipment, production will be underway by the middle of the year."

He estimated that the overall cost of the government property, the additional land, and plant reconversion will "entail an investment of about one and one-half million dollars."

The purchaser was represented by the Joseph Garibaldi firm of real estate brokers, of Hoboken, N. J. Hugh B. Eastburn, Esq., represented the purchaser as attorney, and in connection with real estate and housing matters.

Slush Freezes, Making
Highways Hazardous

The four inches of snow which fell here throughout yesterday and last night, plus the rain, totalled .9 of an inch of water when measured at the Rohm & Haas Co. physics laboratory.

The four inches of snow, when melted, would provide about .4 of an inch of water, and this with the additional rain of the 24-hour period ending at eight o'clock this morning, totalled the .9-inch precipitation.

The slush which covered highways and sidewalks during the afternoon and last evening, turned to frozen masses when the temperature lowered. It went below the freezing mark, to 31, at two a. m. today, then continued on down to 24 degrees by eight a. m. Percentage of relative humidity was 74.

Motorists were forced to use caution, both in the slush of yesterday and last night, and on the frozen highways this morning.

Railroad crews were on duty throughout the night, clearing and thawing switches, and emergency crews of telephone and electric light companies were also on duty. Wires were weighted down by the snow and ice.

The Penna. State Highway Department had snow plows in operation throughout yesterday and during the night. Roadways were cindered, especially on curves and hills.

State Police at Langhorne barracks reported there were no accidents in which individuals were injured.

BOY HIT BY CAR

A school pupil, Stephen Phillips, Barrett street, Bristol Terrace II, sustained abrasions of the back this morning when he is said to have run into the path of an automobile driven by Martin Braam, Schuylkill Drive. Stephen had been waiting for the school bus and when he saw it approaching ran toward the bus and was hit, it is said. He was treated at Harriman Hospital and discharged.

REQUIREMENTS NECESSARY TO PLACE NAMES ON BALLOTS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14—(INS)—Secretary of the Commonwealth Charles M. Morrison has fixed requirements for candidates desiring to place their names on election ballots this year.

He said the Department would issue each candidate twice the number of forms needed to file the required information without charge but that additional forms would cost 10 cents each. Filing fees must be paid with certified checks, Morrison emphasized. The following list was issued:

ANDALUSIA, Jan. 14—"Psychic Gables," a program of "magic of the mind," is to be a feature at the January meeting of Andalusia Parent-Teacher Association on Monday evening next. The session will be held in King hall here, at eight o'clock.

The presentation will be by George and Irene Ghebels. The public is invited, and a silver offering will be received.

EXPRESS GRATITUDE FOR A CAKE OF SOAP

German Family Expresses Belief in Gospel of Good Will

LETTER TO LOCALITE

That the peoples of the world can get along together provided they are willing to share what they have and to spread the gospel of good will is the thought expressed by a German family in a letter to Mrs. Edith Lindberg, an employee at Bristol high school.

The letter which came as a surprise to Mrs. Lindberg, expresses gratitude for a cake of soap which found its way into the home of the family in question.

In the letter, which was translated at the high school, it is told how the writers, a sister and brother, living in Mannheim, met two United States soldiers one evening when the former two were en route home from a motion picture show. The soldiers inquired of the sister and brother the way to a certain section of the suburbs. They were given the information, but advised not to try that night as at that hour no trolley cars were operating, and that the place in question was difficult to find. The Germans suggested that their mother could possibly arrange for overnight accommodation for the soldiers, and the offer was gratefully accepted.

Arriving at the German home the Americans spent a pleasant evening in enjoyment of games, songs and instrumental music, the younger boys in the family playing piano.

The young folks informed that

Miss Agnes Wilkie Speaks At Meeting of The Guild

Members of the Women's Guild of Bristol Presbyterian Church met in the church, last evening, with Miss Agnes Wilkie, of Philadelphia, as guest speaker.

The meeting was called to order by the guild president, Mrs. Harry Neher, and a devotional period was led by Mrs. Sherman Bailey. Following the secretary's report by Mrs. Paul Forster, and treasurer's report by Mrs. E. Reed Lang, an account of Monday evening's executive meeting was given by Mrs. Neher.

Miss Wilkie, who is president of the Women's Association of the Woodland Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, explained the women's work in her church. She distributed booklets on the work for those present to peruse and discuss.

The speaker stated that there were five things to be kept in mind in order to make such an organization a success—faith, prayer, accomplishment and personal responsibility. Questions of members were answered by Miss Wilkie.

The session adjourned for refreshments served by hostess circles Nos. 1 and 3.

RESCUE SQUAD TO MEET

CROYDON, Jan. 14—There will be a meeting of the Bucks County Rescue Squad in the headquarters, here tomorrow evening at eight o'clock.

ONE BURNED TO DEATH IN WASHINGTON HOTEL FIRE

Washington—One person was burned to death while another received second and third degree burns early today in a four-alarm fire which forced residents to flee the five-story Potomac Hotel in their night clothes in sub-freezing temperature. A horribly-burned body was found in a room on the fifth floor of the structure in downtown Washington but identification and sex were not known immediately. Harold Sill, 49, whose regular residence was given as the hotel, was rushed to Emergency Hospital with second and third degree burns on his face, hands and feet.

BOARDING PARTY TO SURVEY BURNED SHIP

New York—A boarding party is expected to be put on the army transport Joseph V. Connolly today to survey damage caused by the raging fire which forced abandonment of the vessel some 850 miles east of New York. The fire, which was still smoldering during the night, was expected to have burned out sufficiently to permit the Army transport Gen. R. E. Callan, which was at the scene, to place some men aboard.

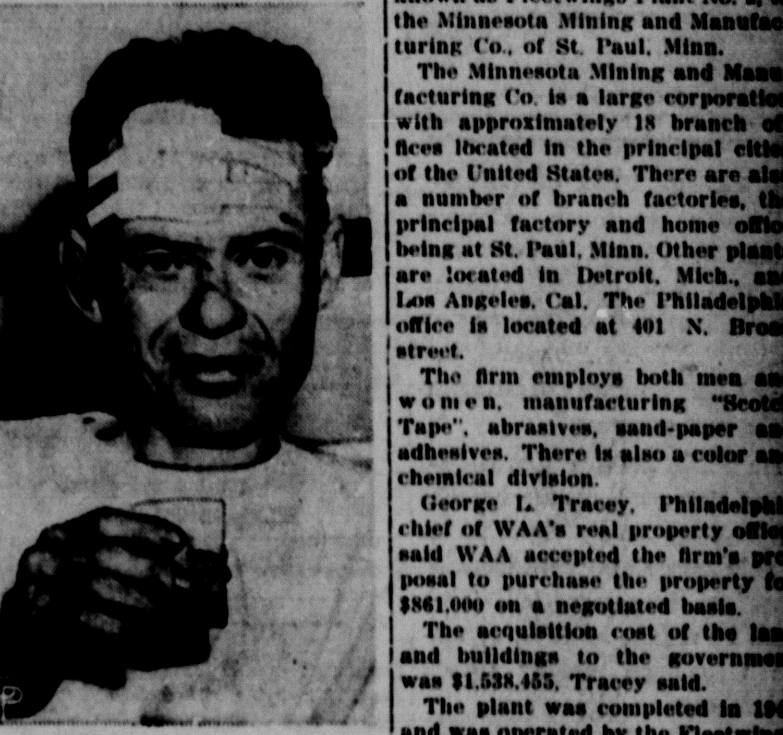

SAYS EUROPE MUST BE AIDED, MINUS INFLATIONARY DANGERS HERE

Washington—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder told Congress today that the European recovery program must be financed without adding to inflationary dangers in the United States and within a balanced budget. Snyder testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he is confident that "so long as we pursue a sound fiscal policy, we shall be able to cover the cost of the program out of current revenues."

FORMER FLEETWINGS PLANT SOLD TO THE MINNESOTA MINING & MFG. CO.; PRICE $861,000 ON NEGOTIATED BASIS

Property To Be Used As Additional Manufacturing and Warehouse Facilities for Eastern Market — Firm Manufactures "Scotch Tape," Abrasives, Etc.

Crash Survivor

The War Assets Administration today announced the sale of a government-owned aircraft plant here known as Fleetwings Plant No. 2, to the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., of St. Paul, Minn.

The Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. is a large corporation with approximately 18 branch offices located in the principal cities of the United States. There are also a number of branch factories, the principal factory and home office being at St. Paul, Minn. Other plants are located in Detroit, Mich., and Los Angeles, Cal. The Philadelphia office is located at 401 N. Broad street.

The firm employs both men and women, manufacturing "Scotch Tape," abrasives, sand-paper and adhesives. There is also a color and chemical division.

George L. Tracey, Philadelphia chief of WAA's real property office, said WAA accepted the firm's proposal to purchase the property for $861,000 on a negotiated basis.

The acquisition cost of the land and buildings to the government was $1,538,455, Tracey said.

The plant was completed in 1942 and was operated by the Fleetwings Division of Kaiser-Cargo Company during the war. The property occupies 14.6 acres containing three modern buildings with a total square space of approximately 235,000 square feet.

W. L. McKnight, president of the Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co., announced that the Bristol property will be used as additional manufacturing and warehouse facilities for its "rapidly expanding eastern market."

When details of the sale are completed, McKnight said, the company will exercise an option to acquire an additional 250 acres of privately owned land adjoining the plant "for future expansion."

"Immediate steps will be taken to get the plant into operation at the earliest possible moment," McKnight added.

"Barring unanticipated delays in the delivery of machinery and equipment, production will be underway by the middle of the year."

He estimated that the overall cost of the government property, the additional land, and plant reconstruction will "entail an investment of about one and one-half million dollars."

The purchaser was represented by the Joseph Garibaldi firm of real estate brokers, of Hoboken, N. J. Hugh B. Eastburn, Esq., represented the purchaser as attorney, and in connection with real estate and housing matters.

Slush Freezes, Making Highways Hazardous

The four inches of snow which fell here throughout yesterday and last night, plus the rain, totaled 9 of an inch of water when measured at the Roth & Haas Co. physical laboratory.

The four inches of snow, when melted, would provide about .4 of an inch of water, and this with the additional rain of the 21-hour period ending at eight o'clock this morning, totaled the 9-inch precipitation.

The slush which covered highways and sidewalks during the afternoon and last evening, turned to frozen masses when the temperature lowered. It went below the freezing mark, to 31, at two a. m. today, then continued on down to 24 degrees by eight a. m. Percentage of relative humidity was 74.

Motorists were forced to use caution, both in the slush of yesterday and last night, and on the frozen highways this morning.

Railroad crews were on duty throughout the night, clearing and thawing switches, and emergency crews of telephone and electric light companies were also on duty. Wires were weighted down by the snow and ice.

The Penna. State Highway Department had snow plows in operation throughout yesterday and during the night. Roadways were cleared, especially on curves and hills.

State Police at Langhorne barracks reported there were no accidents in which individuals were injured.

ARM AMPUTATED

When his right arm became caught in a carding machine at the plant of Thomas L. Leedom Co. here, this morning at 1:30, Angelo "Ciancio" Jefferson avenue, was removed to Harriman Hospital. There the arm was amputated just below the elbow. Ciancio remains in the hospital.

FUTURE OF RENT CONTROLS

Senator Sparkman, Alabama Democrat, doesn't believe that Congress will honor President Truman's appeal for tighter rent controls. The Senator just doesn't see "how we can strengthen the rent program."

He thinks the direction will be toward decontrol, if only because Congress can hardly "back up on the voluntary 15 per cent increase clause" in the present bill. That would be unfair, he says, to tenants who have already signed leases accepting higher rent.

It seems entirely likely that most members of Congress will look at the problem in the same light, despite the President's strong plea for what would amount to a rollback. Rents may have risen 1 per cent a month under the present law, and a 12 per cent annual increase might, as the President has said, impose an intolerable strain on the family budget. But it's too late to change the act, and the most that advocates of controlled prices, etc., can hope for is an extension.

As a matter of fact, it is doubtful that the President actually expects any more than that. He has been a great deal more critical of the law than it deserves. He has, in fact, dreamed up a bogey man that isn't there by declaring that rent increases recommended by local advisory boards must be granted, although some have been denied.

After all, a 12 per cent rise in rents seems reasonable compared to other increases the family budget must meet. Rent payers should be satisfied if the present law is extended as is. Property owners will have no reason to be.

WEATHER A FACTOR

The problem of inflation will continue to be the subject of debate, in and out of Congress, but one of the most important factors in economic safety of the nation will not be determined until harvest days have come and gone.

This is none other than the weather as it affects farm crops. The United States is blessed with bountiful crops similar to those of the last few years, pressure on food prices will be relieved.

But should adverse weather conditions reduce yields to below normal average, still higher food costs will be inevitable if exports to Europe are continued.

Bountiful crops in the United States and the countries of Western Europe would do more to check the spread of Communism than any other single factor. Crop failures in the United States and Western Europe, with large yields in Russia, would put the Soviets in dominant position as far as Europe is concerned.

Good growing weather will insure a continuation of prosperity in this country. Crop failures, in addition to bringing higher food prices, would slow down industry and reduce consumer buying power.

The immediate future of this nation depends largely upon the whims of wind and weather which may be its portion this season.

ATOM TEST IS ORDERED 'FENCED IN' FOR SAFETY

AFTER JANUARY 31 and through the year of 1948, the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington warns that "hazards will exist" in the Eniwetok Atoll area where new A-bomb tests are to be staged. A huge danger zone around this south Pacific island has been officially announced. Above is shown "Shanty Town," along the shores of Aomori Island, on Eniwetok, Marshall Islands. Vegetation on the islands is sparse and rainfall practically non-existent. There are some 145 natives in the bomb-experiment zone. A thick curtain of secrecy surrounds developments in the military uses of atomic energy. U. S. Navy Photo. (International)

Hear Suit Over Boy's Death Here 6 Years Ago

Resuming the case Tuesday, a twin sister, Mary DiVenti, of the dead youth, took the witness stand. "I saw 12 or 15 children playing in the area that noon. I did not see the wall fall, but I heard children screaming. My brother was underneath the wall," Miss DiVenti testified.

Mrs. Anna Terrani, mother of Viola, whose leg was broken by the wall, testified Mr. Asta, one of the defendants, owned a parking garage in the area.

"Mr. Asta told me he was sorry that it happened. He told me he had someone to build the wall to keep from having his property ruined," Mrs. DiVenti said.

Sebastiano Novetta testified he built the wall for Mr. Asta. The wall was built in July, 1949.

Appointments were announced and six divorces granted Monday at the opening of January term of Bucks county civil and equity court. Jurors were drawn in two cases.

In Judge Hiram H. Keller's Court the case of Agnes G. Heston against George Burse (trespass), was called.

Sixteen cases on the trial list were continued for the term in the Court of Common Pleas.

Judge Boyer handed down the following divorces:

COSTUME LOOK FOR MATERNITY

Natural-colored suit in wool mixture weave for mothers-to-be.

Today's mother-to-be, just as every other fashion-conscious woman, plans her wardrobe around one basic costume. This Fall and Winter, such a costume can be equally right for day and after-dark, simply because of its soft, dressy look. An example is the New York suit pictured, in a natural color weave combining wool with a small amount of fur. Tiny gold bar buttons are an extra, bright note.

Talk this new season about more fabric naturally applies to maternity clothes, too. Such jackets as the style shown are all-around flat-

 one of the most important factors in economic safety of the nation will not be determined until harvest days have come and gone.
 This is none other than the weather as it affects farm crops.
 The United States is blessed with bountiful crops similar to those of the last few years, pressure on food prices will be reduced.
 But should adverse weather conditions reduce yields to below normal average, still higher food prices will be inevitable if exports to Europe are continued.
 Bountiful crops in the United States and the countries of Western Europe would do more to check the spread of Communism than any other single factor. Crop failures in the United States and Western Europe, with large yields in Russia, would put the Soviets in dominant position as far as Europe is concerned.
 Good growing weather will increase a continuation of prosperity in this country. Crop failures, in addition to bringing higher food prices, would slow down industry and reduce consumer buying power.
 The immediate future of this nation depends largely upon the season of wind and weather which may be its portion this season.

AFTER JANUARY 31 and through the year of 1948, the Atomic Energy Commission in Washington warns that "hazards will exist" in the Eniwetok Atoll area where new A-bomb tests are to be staged. A huge danger zone around this south Pacific isle has been officially announced. Above is shown "Shanty Town," along the shores of Aomori Island, on Eniwetok, Marshall Islands. Vegetation on the islands is sparse and rainfall practically non-existent. There are some 145 natives in the bomb-experiment zone. A thick curtain of secrecy surrounds developments in the military uses of atomic energy. U. S. Navy Photo. (International)

ELBERSON NAMED GAME ASS'N HEAD; PRIZES PRESENTED

Joseph Elbersen, Courier outdoors writer, was elected president of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association met at the Odd Fellows' Hall last evening for the annual meeting of the club. He succeeds Ollie Hobbs, retiring chairman.

Elected to the vice-presidency was Sidney Popkin, well-known local sportsman and Mill street businessman. James R. Chichester and John Conca were re-elected to the posts of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

The newly-elected board of governors of the club includes C. Donald Moyer, Ralph Ratcliffe, John C. Johnson, Harvey Cochran and Joseph King, Sr.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the awarding of prizes to winners of the various divisions of the association's 1947 fishing contest. Double honors went to George Epping, who won first prize in both the bass and pickerel divisions. Epping has won the bass division honors for three straight years. His entry in this division for 1947 weighed 5 pounds, 5 ounces. His winning pickerel entry weighed 2 pounds.

Double honors also went to Paul Gerhart and Norman Morris. Gerhart took first prize in the non-game fish division with a 4 pound, 2 ounce catfish, and second prize in the trout division with a 1 pound, 6 ounce trout. Morris was second in both the bass and pickerel divisions. His bass entry tipped the scales at 3 pounds, 6 ounces, and his pickerel entry weighed 1 pound, 8 ounces.

Howard Asay was first place winner in the trout division with a 1 pound, 12 ounce fish. There were no entries in the salt water division.

The trap committee announced that, beginning in February, at least one shoot will be held each month in 1948.

Following other committee reports refreshments were served to the group. An unavoidable delay in the arrival of the films caused this part of the scheduled program to be cancelled last evening. The pictures will be shown at the February meeting.

Yam Spice Cake

LET 'em eat cake! Here's how—by utilizing the flavor and fine baking qualities of Louisiana's deep-red yam type sweet potatoes in place of half the usual quantity of flour called for in spice cake recipes.

Yam Spice Cake
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour 1/2 cup fat
1/2 teaspoon salt 1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder 2 eggs
1/2 cup mashed boiled Louisiana yam sweet potatoes
1/2 teaspoon soda 1/2 cup chopped potatoes
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1/2 cup nut meats
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg 1/2 cup seedless raisins
1/2 teaspoon all-spice 1/2 cup milk

First, boil, peel, and mash 1 cup of Louisiana yam sweet potatoes.

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, soda and spices. Cream fat. Gradually add sugar and cream until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add yams, nuts and raisins; mix well. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Turn into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 50 minutes.

Cut in squares and serve hot with orange sauce, or cool and frost with orange frosting.

Aid Members Transact Business; To Make Quilt

HULMEVILLE, Jan. 14—The 14 members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Nesaminy Methodist Church who were entertained at the home of Mrs. Christian Tomlinson, Langhorne, last evening, transacted business coming before the January meeting, then enjoyed a social hour.

The presiding officer was Mrs. G. A. Japchen, who called upon Mrs. George Bilger to serve as secretary pro tem; and upon Mrs. Edward Davis for report of condition of the treasury. The 24th Psalm was read by Mrs. Linford Benner.

The president reported on a meeting of the executive committee held recently at the home of Mrs. Harry Claus, Bensalem township; and reports on Christmas work of the Aid were presented. Pieces of material to arrange in star pattern blocks for a quilt were distributed among members. The plan is to auction the quilt when completed.

The Aid members decided to co-operate with the official board of the church in its fund-raising plan for church improvements.

A program of natural-color slides, including a series "Lyrics in Color" and others was presented by Miss Elma E. Haefner. The entertainment features were arranged by Mrs. George Bilger, who then conducted a contest in which members decided upon identity of each other's baby pictures. Prizes for this, in the form of baby food, were awarded to Mrs. Hugh B. Webster and Mrs. E. D. Adler.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Albert Tomlinson, of Pennel.

Set Up An Emergency Office; Fuel Situation

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14—(INS)—Plans were made today to set up an emergency office to handle the most critical fuel shortage cases in the five-county Philadelphia area.

Brig. Gen. Brenton G. Wallace, newly-appointed state fuel oil coordinator, said after a conference with Philadelphia officials that the oil scarcity was more acute in the area than elsewhere throughout the commonwealth.

It was announced that the new office would take care of the dire needs of Delaware, Montgomery, Bucks, Chester and Philadelphia counties.

Meanwhile, in Camden, N. J., Mayor George E. Brunner named a committee of producers and distributors to seek additional supplies to relieve the local shortage where more than 1000 home owners are without heat.

Wallace said the new emergency fuel office would operate from Philadelphia's city hall, patterned on the wartime activities of the defense council during the coal shortage. He said the police would investigate applications for emergency supplies.

NEW SERUM

LANSING, Mich.—(INS)—Some 80 Michigan babies live this year because of a new serum for treating influenza meningitis. Dr. J. K. Atland, state health commissioner, said the disease kills about 90 babies in Michigan each year. The serum, which is used in combination with sulfadiazine, is expected to cut the fatality rate to 10.

Look what happens as a Telephone System Grows!

AS MORE TELEPHONES ARE ADDED, the more complex the telephone system becomes . . . and the more it tends to cost to provide good telephone service.

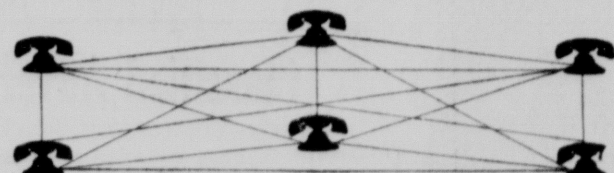

Let's see why this is so. Let's start with the simplest possible telephone system—two telephones connected by one pair of wires. Like this:

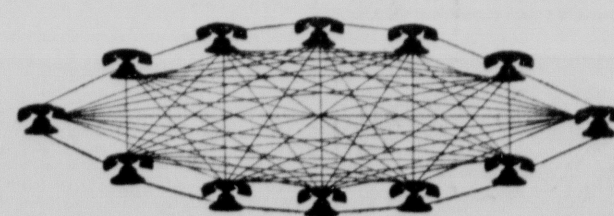

Now let's say that another family wants telephone service. This means that there must be three telephones instead of two, and three pairs of wires instead of one. In other words, we install 50 percent more telephones but 200 percent more wire! Like this:

Now let's say that three more families want telephone service. So our imaginary system grows to six telephones . . . and to interconnect six telephones, we must install 15 pairs of wires! Like this:

But no sooner has our system grown to six telephones than six more families, logically enough, want telephone service. Our telephone system has now grown to 12 telephones. That's only six times the number of telephones we had originally, but no fewer than 66 pairs of wires would be needed to interconnect them! Like this:

This system, of course, is imaginary. All this complexity, in real life, is centered in the central office. But the principle remains the same: As more telephones are added, the more complex the telephone system becomes . . . and the more it tends to cost to provide good telephone service.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

A LITTLE MORE than a century ago, a Frenchman, Francois Appert, invented the methods used today by the canning industry.

The industry became established in the United States about 1830 and great advancement resulted from the use of canned goods as a food supply item during the Civil War. Development since has been rapid and the field of canning has expanded beyond emergency and army needs and now encompasses general conservation and distribution of perishable foods of all kinds.

Canneries today, are in effect great community kitchens where all the rough work of preparing vast quantities of food is done for the convenience and nourishment of innumerable households. Thousands of acres of fruit, grain and vegetable land, great herds of cows and flocks of fishing craft are dedicated to their service.

The prime object of the canning industry, says the A&P Service for Home-Makers, is to get fresh, sound foods of the proper grade of maturity into cans in the shortest length of time possible after they are caught or picked. For this reason, canneries are located in the regions supplying the food to be processed. If stored in a cool, dry place, canned goods will stay wholesome for a long period of time.

For a January Sunday dinner, try tomato juice cocktail, baked Virginia ham, sweet potatoes, mixed carrots and peas, asparagus tips, pear and lettuce salad, and for dessert mince pie and coffee.

Aid Members Transact Business; To Make Quilt

HULMEVILLE, Jan. 14—The 14 members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Neshaminy Methodist Church who were entertained at the home of Mrs. Christian Tomlinson, Langhorne, last evening, transacted business coming before the January meeting, then enjoyed a social hour.

The presiding officer was Mrs. G. A. Japchen, who called upon Mrs. George Bilger to serve as secretary pro tem; and upon Mrs. Edward Davis for report of condition of the treasury. The 24th Psalm was read by Mrs. Linford Benner.

The president reported on a meeting of the executive committee held recently at the home of Mrs. Harry Claus, Bensalem township; and reports on Christmas work of the Aid were presented. Pieces of material to arrange in star pattern blocks for a quilt were distributed among members. The plan is to auction the quilt when completed.

The Aid members decided to co-operate with the official board of the church in its fund-raising plan for church improvements.

A program of natural-color slides, including a series "Lyrics in Color" and others was presented by Miss Elma E. Haefner. The entertainment features were arranged by Mrs. George Bilger, who then conducted a contest in which members decided upon identity of each other's baby pictures. Prizes for this, in the form of baby food, were awarded to Mrs. Hugh B. Webster and Mrs. E. D. Atter.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Albert Tomlinson, of Pennell.

Set Up An Emergency Office; Fuel Situation

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14—(INS)—Plans were made today to set up an emergency office to handle the most critical fuel shortage cases in the five-county Philadelphia area.

Brig. Gen. Brenton G. Wallace, newly-appointed state fuel oil coordinator, said after a conference with Philadelphia officials that the oil scarcity was more acute in the area than elsewhere throughout the commonwealth.

It was announced that the new office would take care of the dire needs of Delaware, Montgomery, Bucks, Chester and Philadelphia counties.

Meanwhile, in Camden, N. J., Mayor George E. Brunner named a committee of producers and distributors to seek additional supplies to relieve the local shortage where more than 1000 home owners are without heat.

Wallace said the new emergency fuel office would operate from Philadelphia's city hall, patterned on the wartime activities of the defense council during the coal shortage. He said the police would investigate applications for emergency supplies.

NEW SERUM

LANSING, Mich.—(INS)—Some 50 Michigan babies live this year because of a new serum for treating influenza meningitis. Dr. J. K. Alland, state health commissioner, said the disease kills about 90 babies in Michigan each year. The serum, which is used in combination with sulfadiazine, is expected to cut the fatality rate to 10.

FINDS DAUGHTER AFTER 30 YEARS

FOR 30 YEARS Harold Hamilton (left), Detroit, believed his wife and daughter dead. His wife is. But Betty Hamilton (right) is soon coming from Belfast, Ireland, and with her will be a granddaughter that Hamilton never dreamed existed. The strange story behind all this began when Hamilton, in World War I, married a pretty colleen while on leave. When he heard he was about to be a father, he tried to get a furlough and failed. Then he was informed that both mother and baby died. A year ago a radio Christmas story caused him to do some checking. Recently he located Betty, and arranged for the reunion. (International)

Look what happens as a Telephone System Grows!

AS MORE TELEPHONES ARE ADDED, the more complex the telephone system becomes . . . and the more it tends to cost to provide good telephone service.

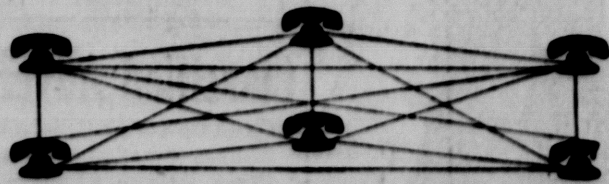

Let's see why this is so. Let's start with the simplest possible telephone system—two telephones connected by one pair of wires. Like this:

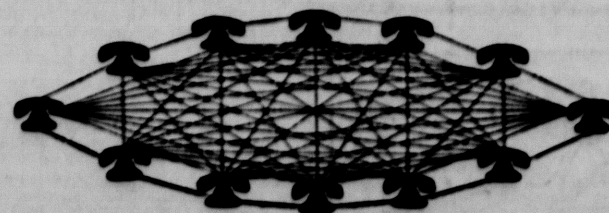

Now let's say that another family wants telephone service. This means that there must be three telephones instead of two, and three pairs of wires instead of one. In other words, we install 50 percent more telephones but 200 percent more wire! Like this:

Now let's say that three more families want telephone service. So our imaginary system grows to six telephones . . . and to interconnect six telephones, we must install 15 pairs of wires! Like this:

But no sooner has our system grown to six telephones than six more families, logically enough, want telephone service. Our telephone system has now grown to 12 telephones. That's only six times the number of telephones we had originally, but no fewer than 66 pairs of wires would be needed to interconnect them! Like this:

This system, of course, is imaginary. All this complexity, in real life, is centered in the central office. But the principle remains the same: As more telephones are added, the more complex the telephone system becomes . . . and the more it tends to cost to provide good telephone service.

Express Gratitude For a Cake of Soap

their father was still a prisoner in the Russian zone.

When time arrived to retire, the mother gave up her room, the best in the house, to the American guests, she sleeping on a divan. The next morning the group slept late, it being Sunday; then the problem of food arose. The family had some noodles, and 600 grams of meat (about 1 1/4 pounds), which they readily shared with the guests. The two visitors could not start their trip to the suburbs until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the Sunday hour at which trolleys commenced operating. So pleased were they at the hospitality shown that as a parting gift they presented a cake of soap to the family, the cake of soap having been received by the soldiers in a package from this country.

The German sister and brother, in the letter to Mrs. Lindberg, relate how, in opening the wrappings on the soap, they found her name and address. After expressing thanks for the prized item, they informed that their family didn't care "too much about the war," they being a peace-loving family. They further added that they like to help any in need and were glad to have the American soldiers as guests. The two mentioned that people all over the world can get along if they have the right attitude toward others. They asked that their letter be shown to a news reporter, and that the public be informed how they, themselves, feel about the world situation—that people can get along with others if they are willing to share what they have and spread the gospel of good will.

Pictures of A Pheasant Hunt Shown to Kiwanians

PENNDLE, Jan. 14.—Bucks County Lincoln Highway Kiwanis Club members gathered for their weekly dinner meeting at Royal Gardens, Bensalem township, last evening. A sizeable group was present, despite the inclement weather. Donald Weeks led the men in singing, "whipping up" fine enthusiasm for the song fest.

Robert Butner, a visiting Kiwanian from White Plains, N. Y., was welcomed. The guest of the evening, Melvin Walters, Morrisville, showed an interesting film concerning a pheasant hunt, this having lively orchestration.

John A. A. Crowley, chairman of public affairs committee, gave a report as to progress of the committee. He announced plans for a series of forums, the first of which will be held at the February 3rd meeting. The subject will be "Zoning for Better Living for Middletown Township." Howard Gutgesell will serve in the capacity of moderator.

On January 20th Ammon Rosenberger, past governor of Kiwanis in this district, will deliver a message on "Kiwanis Education." It is the desire of officials of the club that each member invite a guest or a prospective member to attend this session.

Purchase Building For Use As A Fire Station

TULLYTOWN, Jan. 14.—The Tullytown Fire Company has arranged to purchase a one-story frame building on Railroad avenue for use as a fire station. The building committee reported at a meeting of the company last evening that a deposit has been made on the building, and that the transaction will soon be completed.

The structure was purchased from George Roberts, it formerly belonging to the James Cooper Estate. The firemen plan to house their apparatus there, use it for fire company and auxiliary meetings, and also for community affairs. Repairs and renovations are planned.

At this meeting officers were sworn in. Edward Paoletta had been named president to succeed Arthur Leigh. Mr. Leigh became vice-president; Alfred Cordisco, secretary; and William Swangler, treasurer. Trustees are Howard Wright, William DiPasquale and William Heidrick; fire chief, Joseph Cutchinal, Sr.; 1st asst. chief, Wallace Keeler; 2nd asst. chief, John Lusiano.

The fire chief reported a grass fire during the past week with no property damage resulting.

A special meeting of the company will be called in the near future.

The awards were announced by H. H. Hostetter, Sinking Springs, president of the Vegetable Growers Association. At the same session, Dr. L. O. Weaver, extension plant pathologist, the Pennsylvania State College, told of tomato blight control work during the last three years. Other speakers were J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the College; Bailey Pepper, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., and Dr. Roy Magruder, U. D. Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Md.

In the Percheron Horse Award, Class 45, mare, five years and over, Hickory Dell Farm, Newtown, won first, and second. In Class 46, Mare, four years and under five, Hickory Dell Farm, Newtown, won first. In Class 59, Produce of mare, Hickory Dell Farm, Newtown, was given first; and first in Class 61, Stallion and three mares, any age. They also received first in Class 62, three mares belonging to one exhibitor. Gladys H. and James Cornwell, Jr., Newtown, were given ribbons for senior champion mare, reserve champion mare, and Reserve Grand Champion Mare in the Class 62, three mares belonging to one exhibitor.

When time arrived to retire, the mother gave up her room, the best in the house, to the American guests, she sleeping on a divan. The next morning the group slept late, it being Sunday; then the problem of food arose. The family had some noodles, and 600 grams of meat (about 1 1/2 pounds), which they readily shared with the guests. The two visitors could not start their trip to the suburbs until two o'clock in the afternoon, the Sunday hour at which trolleys commenced operating. So pleased were they at the hospitality shown that as a parting gift they presented a cake of soap to the family, the cake of soap having been received by the soldiers in a package from this country.

The German sister and brother, in the letter to Mrs. Lindberg, relate how, in opening the wrappings on the soap, they found her name and address. After expressing thanks for the prized item, they informed that their family didn't care "too much about the war," they being a peace-loving family. They further added that they like to help any in need and were glad to have the American soldiers as guests. The two mentioned that people all over the world can get along if they have the right attitude toward others. They asked that their letter be shown to a news reporter, and that the public be informed how the world situation—that people can get along with others if they are willing to share what they have and spread the gospel of good will.

On January 20th Ammon Rosenberg, past governor of Kiwanis in this district, will deliver a message on "Kiwanis Education." It is the desire of officials of the club that each member invite a guest or a prospective member to attend this session.

BRISTOL WARRIORS EASILY DEFEAT BENSALEM OWLS

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Jan. 14.—It took the Bristol High Warriors quite some time to become accustomed to the smallness of the Bensalem court last night but once the scoring machine of Coach "Jerry" Bloom's lads got clicking there was no stopping to the Warriors who finished on the long end of a 58-37 count over the Bensalem Owls.

Bristol scored 39 points in the second half of the tilt as the Owls held them to even terms in the first and second quarters. The first period finished with the count 10-10 and at half-time the score stood 19-19.

But the Warriors found the range of the nets in the third and fourth periods and racked up field goal after field goal with "Johnny" Pindar and "Jimmy" Sottile doing most of the scoring. Pindar had 18 points to his credit while Sottile had 27, making the score on 12 field goals and three out of six fouls.

The Bristol defense stopped the Bensalem attack and only Johnny Padbury was able to break up the zone defense. Scoring most of his points under the basket, Padbury was good for seven fielders and seven out of eight fouls. Bensalem converted 15 out of 23 fouls.

It was Bristol's second Lower Bucks County League win and the third league loss for Bensalem.

Coach "Whitey" McElister's Jayvees had to come from behind to nip the Bensalem Junior Varsity. Final score was 40-33.

The Warriors' junior varsity team did not score a point in the first quarter but managed to creep up to a 11-16 count with Bensalem leading at half-time.

The third quarter was Bristol's best with "Frankie" Barbetta cutting the cords quite regular. Barbetta scored 13 of his 14 points during the second half while Frank Rich contributed 10 points to the victory. Smith and King were high for the losers.

Bensalem rallied in the last period and scored 16 points, 10 coming in the last few minutes of play.

ALUMNI TEAM TO PRACTICE TONIGHT

Candidates for the Bristol High School Alumni team will hold practice sessions tonight and tomorrow night at eight o'clock on the high school floor. Art Grimes will be in charge of the practice sessions and indications point to the strongest Alumni team in years to face the Warriors Saturday night on the local floor.

Some of the candidates who have expressed a desire to play with the Alumni team include: "Stan" Lelinski, Johnny Messanelli, John Guilatto, Horace Saxton, "Reds" Feole, "Sonny" Fields, Johnny Centonze, Frank Fuoco, Bob Monti, "Easy" Mama, "Al" Burton, Joe Embessi, "Howie" Keyes, William Myers, "Vince" Profy, Ralph Cahill, Tommy Profy, and Teddy Sak.

Several of the above will not be available for practice tonight as their teams are playing in the Bristol Suburban League.

There are still several vacancies to be filled on the team and players are requested to contact Art Grimes or Thomas Juno for positions.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely reminders from the Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture:

Prevent Waste—Spilled feed is a waste that no poultryman can afford. This is especially true now when the emphasis is on saving grain, says F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. Use equipment of the right size and feed only what the birds will clean up in a day.

Buy Fertilizer Now—Farmers who want to be sure of a supply of fertilizer are urged by J. B. R. Dickey, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State College, to order and accept delivery early. Store the fertilizer in a dry place off the ground and pile not more than 4 or 5 bags high.

Select Good Sire — To improve milking ability of the dairy herd, select a proved sire whose ancestors are known for transmitting high production, R. R. Welch, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, says that records of daughters of 179 living sires show the value of this sound method.

Repair Equipment—Winter is a good time to repair and paint hotbed and coldframe sash, according to J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. Use a good grade of putty where needed.

Order Seeds Early—Avoid disappointment by ordering farm crop seeds early, remind Penn State extension agronomists. Some preferred varieties of legume, oats, and hybrid corn seeds may not be available later in the year.

HIBERNIANS MEET K. OF C. TEAM HERE; ST. ANN'S VS. PROFY

Two important tilts are on the card of the Bristol Basketball League for tonight. In the opening game, the Hibernians will meet the Knights of Columbus quintet while the second encounter pits St. Ann's against Profy's. First game will start at 7.30 o'clock sharp with the Rohm & Haas court being the scene of the action.

The Hibs beat the Knights by one point in two extra periods in their first meeting but since then the Caseys have strengthened considerably and are expected to put up a great fight to maintain their position in the league race.

The Hibeos are tied for first place with the Rohm & Haas and Fifth Ward teams. The Hibs are led by "Johnny" Rodgers, who has scored 91 points this season, 7 points behind "Auggie" Everitt who is setting the pace.

St. Ann's beat Profy's in their first meeting and the Radiomen seek revenge. The Profymen need this triumph to keep in the league race as a defeat will put them two games behind the leaders.

The leading scorers:

ONE OF 155 NEW INDUSTRIES STARTING IN THIS AREA

Yet there'll be as much electricity as ever for homes like these

With the greatly expanded use of new labor-saving devices, new standards of lighting efficiency, and a greater call for home entertainment, the use of electricity in the average household has more than doubled in fifteen years.

New industries mean more and better jobs.

But modern industries also require enormous amounts of electricity . . . to drive machines, provide shadow-free lighting, keep air fresh and clean, and perform a hundred and one specialized tasks.

Every day sees electricity become more important to housewives, too. Its greater helpfulness has led the average home to more than double its use during the past fifteen years.

Even new industry must not interfere with these happier homes of ours. And it won't. Trust your neighbors who operate Philadelphia Electric to see to that.

For keeping ahead of the job is one of the ways P.E. makes sure of serving you well. The electric demand for at least the next five years has been measured with slide-rule accuracy and a $235,000,000 expansion program now is in full swing to provide for all the needs of this greater community.

In the future, just as in the past, no job will be held up through lack of electricity . . . there'll always be plenty to run the vacuum cleaner and to heat the baby's bottle, as well as to turn the wheels of industry.

The Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce reports 155 new industries now settling in this area. They will provide jobs for thousands of workers . . . and more are coming.

HIBERNIANS MEET K. OF C. TEAM HERE; ST. ANN'S VS. PROFY

ALUMNI TEAM TO PRACTICE TONIGHT

Candidates for the Bristol High School Alumni team will hold practice sessions tonight and tomorrow night at eight o'clock on the high school floor. Art Grimes will be in charge of the practice sessions and indications point to the strongest Alumni team in years to face the Warriors Saturday night on the local floor.

Some of the candidates who have expressed a desire to play with the Alumni team include: "Stan" Lelinski, Johnny Messanelli, John Gullatto, Horace Saxton, "Reds" Feele, "Sonny" Fields, Johnny Centonze, Frank Fuoco, Bob Monti, "Easy" Mama, "Al" Burton, Joe Embess, "Howie" Keyes, William Myers, "Vince" Profy, Ralph Cahill, Tommy Profy, and Teddy Sak.

Several of the above will not be available for practice tonight as their teams are playing in the Bristol Suburban League.

There are still several vacancies to be filled on the team and players are requested to contact Art Grimes or Thomas Juno for positions.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely reminders from the Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture:

Prevent Waste—Spilled feed is a waste that no poultryman can afford. This is especially true now when the emphasis is on saving grain, says F. H. Leuschner, extension poultry specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. Use equipment of the right size and feed only what the birds will clean up in a day.

Buy Fertilizer Now—Farmers who want to be sure of a supply of fertilizer are urged by J. B. R. Dickey, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State College, to order and accept delivery early. Store the fertilizer in a dry place off the ground and pile not more than 4 or 5 bags high.

Select Good Sire—To improve milking ability of the dairy herd, select a proved sire whose ancestors are known for transmitting high production, R. H. Welch, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State College, says that records of daughters of 173 living sires show the value of this sound method.

Repair Equipment—Winter is a good time to repair and paint hotbed and coldframe sash, according to J. O. Dutt, extension vegetable specialist of the Pennsylvania State College. Use a good grade of putty where needed.

Order Seeds Early—Avoid disappointment by ordering farm crop seeds early, remind Penn State extension agronomists. Some preferred varieties of legume, oats, and hybrid corn seeds may not be available later in the year.

Two important tilts are on the card of the Bristol Basketball League for tonight. In the opening game, the Hibernians will meet the Knights of Columbus quintet while the second encounter pits St. Ann's against Profy's. First game will start at 7:30 o'clock sharp with the Rohm & Haas court being the scene of the action.

The Hibs beat the Knights by one point in two extra periods in their first meeting but since then the Canseys have strengthened considerably and are expected to put up a great fight to maintain their position in the league race.

The Hibs are tied for first place with the Rohm & Haas and Fifth Ward teams. The Hibs are led by "Johnny" Rodgers, who has scored 91 points this season, 7 points behind "Angie" Everitt who is setting the pace.

St. Ann's beat Profy's in their first meeting and the Radomien seek revenge. The Profymen need this triumph to keep in the league race as a defeat will put them two games behind the leaders.

The leading scorers:

ONE OF 155 NEW INDUSTRIES STARTING IN THIS AREA

Yet there'll be as much electricity as ever for homes like these

With the greatly expanded use of new labor-saving devices, new standards of lighting efficiency, and a greater call for home entertainment, the use of electricity in the average household has more than doubled in fifteen years.

New industries mean more and better jobs.

But modern industries also require enormous amounts of electricity . . . to drive machines, provide shadow-free lighting, keep air fresh and clean, and perform a hundred and one specialized tasks.

Every day sees electricity become more important to housewives, too. Its greater helpfulness has led the average home to more than double its use during the past fifteen years.

Even new industry must not interfere with these happier homes of ours. And it won't. Trust your neighbors who operate Philadelphia Electric to see to that.

For keeping ahead of the job is one of the ways P.E. makes sure of serving you well. The electric demand for at least the next five years has been measured with slide-rule accuracy and a $255,000,000 expansion program now is in full swing to provide for all the needs of this greater community.

In the future, just as in the past, no job will be held up through lack of electricity . . . there'll always be plenty to run the vacuum cleaner and to heat the baby's bottle, as well as to turn the wheels of industry.

The Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce reports 155 new industries now settling in this area. They will provide jobs for thousands of workers . . . and more are coming.
